The Days of Tight Belts Are Over Cling-Surface

"CLING-SURFACE" IS A BELT filler, which produces a clean, clinging surface on the belt after it has penetrated the belt, and it is a belt preservative, making and keeping the leather, cotton or rope flexible and elastic, vastly increasing its life. It also acts perfectly on rubber belts.

One-third more power is transmitted by its use, or in other words, a belt two-thirds as large will transmit the power if "Cling-Surface" is used.

Send for a sample ten-pound tin. Price 50c per lb.

CITES HIS AUTHORITY

Acting Governor In the Police Court.

PROSECUTION OF AN IMPOSTOR

Chinese Who Impersonated the Late Tom Gow Asked to Be Forgiven.

Acting Governor Cooper, Collector of Internal Revenue Chamberlain, Deputy Attorney General Dunne and others of note in government service, were visitors in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, the former as prosecuting witness against Yong Kong Hung, a Chinese accused of having falsely personated a dead Chinese, named Tom Gow, formerly a resident of Honolulu, in order to obtain a certificate of the original record of naturalization issued to Tom Gow by the Hawaiian Government. The case was an interesting one throughout, showing the methods by which the Chinese who are not citizens obtain papers from the government giving them the citizenship so valuable in making journeys between Hawaii and China. High Sheriff Brown, assisted by Mr. Dunne, appeared for Acting Governor Cooper in the latter's capacity as Secretary of the Territory. The defendant was represented by Lorin Andrews.

The Acting Governor was on the stand and was a good witness for the prosecution. Mr. Chamberlain was also on the stand to testify to the fact that the defendant had appeared before him early this year to obtain a certificate of identification required by the Internal Revenue Department. He testified that the defendant had procured this certificate under the name of Yong Kong Hung.

The witnesses for the prosecution told how the defendant since his arrest made a plea for mercy and requested the Acting Governor to forgive him. This was done without the knowledge of his attorney, Mr. Andrews. The defendant came to the Capitol and through an interpreter, John Akana, pleaded with Mr. Cooper for mercy on the ground that he had a large family to support and that he was not aware that he had committed a crime by obtaining a copy of the original record of Tom Gow's naturalization. This was a portion of the evidence upon which the prosecution depended to convict the defendant.

The attorney for the defense raised the question of the legal right of Secretary Cooper to issue copies of the original record, or certificates of identification, claiming that there was no law passed by the legislature, or anything in the Organic Act defining his duties, that gave him the right to issue certificates. Under this reasoning he claimed that any one could go to Mr. Cooper and for this or that record without making himself amenable to any law.

The affidavit of Secretary Cooper upon which the defendant was arrested, was issued on July 5, as follows:

"Henry E. Cooper, of Honolulu, Oahu, being first duly sworn, says that he is the Secretary of the Territory of Hawaii; that he has the custody of the original records of naturalization of all persons to whom such papers were granted under the Hawaiian Kingdom; that by virtue of his office he is authorized to issue certified copies of such records of naturalization, and that he does in pursuance of such authority issue certificates of identification attached to such certified copies of persons entitled to the same."

"That Yong Kong Hong, Chinese, of Honolulu, Oahu, on or about the 15th day of March, A. D. 1901, personally appeared before me and represented to me that he was one Tom Gow, and that he had previously obtained records of naturalization from the Hawaiian government; that he desired a certified copy of the original record, together with a certified copy of said record of naturalization, and a certificate of identification, which were issued to the said Yong Kong Hong in the name of Tom Gow, under the signature of the affiant and the great seal of the Territory of Hawaii."

"Whereas, in truth and fact, the said Tom Gow, to whom the record of naturalization was issued was, so complainant is informed and has reason to believe, dead at the time the said Yong Kong Hong did, so complainant is informed and has reason to believe, falsely impersonate said Tom Gow in obtaining such certified copy and certificate of identity from the affiant as aforesaid, contrary to section 184 of the penal laws of 1897."

"(Signed): HENRY E. COOPER."

Mr. Cooper also stated on the stand that he had written to the Secretary of the Treasury for instructions as to his right and power to issue such certificates, which letter was presented in court later in the day. Mr. Cooper left the court room and went to the Capitol where the letter was procured. The portion of the letter upon which Mr. Cooper relied for his authority to act in the matter of the issuance of certificates, was allowed to be offered in evidence, and read as follows:

"You are informed that the department will regard certificates conforming to the provisions of Section 6 of the Act approved July 5, 1894, relating to the Exclusion of Chinese, when issued by the Secretary of the Territory of Hawaii, as being sufficient to establish the right of Chinese persons of the exempt class to enter this country, providing the statements made in such certificates are not controverted."

John Akana, an employee of the government, testified to having acted as interpreter on the occasion of the defendant's visit in Mr. Cooper's office to plead for mercy. Akana stated that as far as he remembered the conversation the defendant acknowledged he had done wrong, that he had a large family and did not want to go to jail. He said he knew he had done wrong. As to why he represented himself as Tom Gow the defendant had stated it was on account of his business and that "he wanted to get a good paper so he could come and go."

Lum Hap testified that he had worked for the real Tom Gow and knew he was dead. He said there was no Tom Gow living here now, and identified the defendant as Yong Kong Hung. In answer to questions from the defendant's attorney he said Tom Gow had been buried under the name of Tuck Hung.

In summing up the testimony Attorney Andrews said there was no law which authorized Secretary Cooper to issue any such papers as that in question. He said a thorough search through all the records of the Monarchy, the Republic or the Territory would not reveal any law of the kind.

The High Sheriff in reply said the evidence was complete in showing that false personation had been done. The fact that he had taken the original record of Tom Gow which he did not know whence it had been obtained, and presented it to Mr. Cooper together with photographs of himself, was sufficient in his estimate of the circumstances to show that the defendant was guilty of false personation. His confession to John Akana verified this.

Judge Wilcox took the case under advisement.

Of Phillipsburg, Montana, Tells How She Was Cured of Dandruff.

Mrs. Mary Gregovich, of Phillipsburg, Montana, under date of Nov. 26, 1899, writes: "I had typhoid fever this summer, consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Herpicide had just come into use in Phillipsburg and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After three or four applications my hair stopped falling out and is coming in again quite thick. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am now quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.

FROM A HONOLULUAN.

He Writes of the Remarkable Hot Spell in New York.

The following is from a letter written by a former resident of Honolulu:

"We have had a fearful spell of hot weather. Tuesday, July 24, was the worst day; temperature, 111 degrees; over 200 deaths and hundreds of prostrations. At 1 a. m. it was 98 degrees. The hot weather continued until Wednesday afternoon, when there was a heavy thunder shower which made a drop of about twenty degrees in as many minutes. Since then we have had fairly warm weather but very endurable."

"The city presented a strange appearance during those days. The streets were thinly populated and those who were on the streets were streaming with perspiration and had the haggard look of lack of sleep. The horses showed a good deal of distress. They were all panting. At frequent intervals they would be cooled off by having a hose played on them or buckets of water thrown on them. It was not uncommon to see a horse fall in the streets from heat prostration. There were to be seen dead horses and cats lying on the streets. The hospitals were filled to overflowing and the staffs were worked very hard."

"New York City, July 5, 1901."
